

We are looking for enthusiastic, elephant (animal) loving advocates to help continue our goal of spreading the word about the ongoing poaching crisis facing the African elephant and the unethical tourist trade in Asia.

Elephanatics Student Ambassador Duties

- 1) You would be in charge of formulating new and creative ways to share our cause, whether it be through fundraising ideas or social media OR both OR holding the Global March for Elephants and Rhinos that takes place every year in October. See below for more information.
- 2) You would be in charge of finding other students to assist you with our volunteer openings and coordinate activities pertaining to ongoing community outreach.
- 3) You would be asked to come to our general meetings and be introduced to the rest of the organization. (optional)
- 4) The perfect candidate would speak other languages that would benefit a multicultural audience (optional)
- 5) You would hold our organization's values and beliefs that elephants need to be protected not only because they are a keystone species, but because they are sentient beings.

Optional Volunteer Position:

Volunteers who would be willing to hold the Global March for Elephants and Rhinos that takes place every October. This march is a huge undertaking and requires help throughout the year as well as the day of to prepare for.

You can also contact Global March for Elephants and Rhinos through their Facebook page: @March4Elephants for complete details on how to hold the march.